

ONTARIO FOOD PROTECTION ASSOCIATION

Laurent Dallaire

CEO and co-founder of Innodal

25+ Years' experience in food industry

Master's degree in food science from Laval University

Innodal develops and produces natural antimicrobials for the food industry

Laurent Dallaire is the CEO and co-founder of Innodal. Mr. Dallaire graduated from the University of Sherbrooke in biotechnological engineering, and has a master's degree in food science from Laval University as part of the METABIOLAC industrial chair. It was following these studies that he founded Innodal, a young company developing and producing natural antimicrobials for the food industry. He has won several entrepreneurship competitions, including Osentreprendre, Génie en Affaires, Genium 360, among others.