

Biography

Rebecca Marshall

Rebecca Marshall has been working in the CPG industry for 2 ½ decades with a focus on the food industry for the past 21 years. Rebecca has a passion for continuous improvement and brings a breadth of statistical and plant process experience to the field of food safety. She has spent most of her career in manufacturing facilities in roles ranging from process engineer to quality manager, maintenance lead, and Six Sigma coach.

Rebecca is currently the Director of Food Safety & Quality Management Systems at Maple Leaf, focussing on corporate and plant support initiatives such as HACCP Strategy, Training, Metrics and Analytics, Digital Strategy and Quality Management.

Rebecca holds a degree in Chemical Engineering and Management from McMaster University and is a Professional Engineer of Ontario. She lives in the greater Toronto area with her husband and two teenage children and is currently launching the kids into post-secondary education. In her spare time she plays and sings in jazz and rock bands across Ontario.

Raise the Good in Food

Maple Leaf Foods Inc., 6985 Financial Drive, Mississauga (Ontario), Canada L5N 0A1 Tel.: 905 285-5000 Fax: 905 285-6000